Tax, Trusts & Estates

The area of law dealing with Tax Trusts & Estates (sometimes referred to as Private Client) focuses on planning for your future through the optimum structuring of your personal and financial affairs.

Advice from a lawyer can include how to minimise your tax liabilities, protect your wealth and pass it on to future generations. Help can be given on how to protect your assets through setting up trusts, wills and on managing a charity.

A carefully drafted Will can save significant sums of money in inheritance tax, ensure your family are provided for and take into account the needs of any young or vulnerable dependants.

Advice can also include planning who will manage your personal and financial affairs, if you lack the capacity to manage your own affairs in the future, through the use of Powers of Attorney and Court of Protection Orders.

In the event of a death, a lawyer can help to handle the Probate and ensure the instructions in the Will are carried out by the executors, and your Estate is passed on according to your wishes. A lawyer would also look for opportunities to reduce Estate tax liabilities retrospectively through appropriate actions taken during the estate administration period.
